Kuramoto: a sharp threshold, then a square-root rise in order below K_c the spread of natural frequencies wins; above it a locked cluster forms, with drifting outliers that no amount of coupling removes.