Turing patterns: how a smooth state chooses a size

each spot grows until its own depletion zone stops it: the wavelength is set by a competition between two diffusion lengths, not by the seeds.